

Flush Cutting

The primary benefit of the flush-cut hand saw is its ability to cut close to walls and floors to reduce the need for further breaking out in tight situations. This is a distinct advantage in both time and money, specifically as it reduces the need for making-good.

Pro-Cut Concrete have both petrol and hydraulic powered flush-cut saws can achieve depths of both 150mm and 200mm.

